$7000 Slash On Insurance Rates Ordered

Fire Fighting Record Brings Reductions To Redwood City

Because of a minimum fire loss over several years, the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific will shortly put into effect a reduction of 5 cents per $100 on insurance rates on dwellings and 7% on mercantile establishments, City Manager E. A. Rolison informed the council Monday night.

Rates will be 25 cents per $100 instead of 30 cents on Class C dwellings and 35 cents instead of 40 cents on Class D dwellings, and 93 cents instead of $1 on Class C mercantile establishments and $1.39½ instead of $1.50 on Class D business houses.

Class C dwellings or mercantile buildings are those with tile or brick construction, with fire resisting roof, and Class D are frame buildings, with plaster or board exteriors.

Reductions, according to L. S. Bush, chief engineer of the underwriters, are the result of tie-in with Hetch Hetchy water, giving the city an unlimited supply which was not assured from city wells; installation of the former Berkeley fire equipment, including a repeater on the fire alarm system, and the utilization by 11 to 14 men of the sleeping bunks at the fire houses, so that the equipment is always adequately manned.

Redwood City is asked to put on one more full-time paid fireman as part of the agreement to secure the reductions. This the council is expected to do.

$5100 DIFFERENCE

Cost of the new paid fireman will be about $1900 per year and estimated savings to insurance payers will be about $7000 per year, Rolison said. Redwood City pays about $60,000 per year in fire protection premiums.

Reductions in rates will put Redwood City in the lowest-paying class of cities on the peninsula. Only San Francisco, which has a rate of 21 cents per $100 on Class C dwellings, will pay less than Redwood City. This city will pay the same rates as Burlingame, South San Francisco, Palo Alto and San Jose. San Mateo pays 35 cents, San Carlos 40 cents and Belmont 35 cents.

On mercantile buildings, the 7% reduction to 93 cents on Class C structures puts Redwood City in a unique class on the peninsula. No other city, including San Francisco, pays so little. The $1.39½-cent rate on Class D business buildings is also the lowest of all cities between San Francisco and San Jose.

CREDIT TO FIREMEN

The favorable position of the city in the matter of insurance rates is held to be a credit to the up-to-date fire equipment and the record of Fire Chief Mark Ryan and his department of paid men and volunteers.

Fire loss records for Redwood City during the past seven years, as announced by Chief Ryan, were as follows:

1928-29—$11,322.92, or $1.26 per capita.
1929-30—$8200, or 91 cents per capita.
1930-31—$8400, or 90 cents per capita.
1931-31—$18,921, or $2.10 per capita.
1932-33—$6117, or 68 cents per capita.
1933-34—$1685, or 17 cents per capita.
1934-35—$9533, or 95 cents per capita.

Bay Area Planning Idea Is Furthered

With San Francisco's planning commission selecting its Chairman W. W. Chapin as representative, the proposed Bay Regional Planning Commission moved a step nearer reality today.

Of the seven counties which it is planned will at first comprise the commission, alll but one either have indicated they would join or have actually named representatives to the master commission, which will have as its function solution of transit, highway and recreation problems pertaining to the entire bay region.

Marin, Alameda and Santa Clara counties' commissioners individually have voiced approval of the idea which originated with this county's commission.

COUNTY DEFIES STATE ON 5% ACT TO PROVIDE RELIEF, PENSION FUNDS

$50,000 Stock Show Cash Voted To Assure Start of Work Within Week or So

Ignoring the state board of equalization's refusal to allow $140,000 in special items beyond the 5 per cent limitation of the new Wright act, effective in September, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Monday decided to "take a chance" and put the requests into the 1935-36 budget.

The board also voted $50,000 cash from the "unappropriated state redemption fund" to the San Francisco-San Mateo County Livestock Exposition, which the state board had allowed, and $10,000 to the Sunnyvale airbase purchase, a debt now five years old, which the state also approved by telegram shortly after the board meeting at noon today.

The $60,000 of the latter two items and the $140,000 make a total of $200,000 to be added to $46,000 which the 5 per cent limitation law allows, so that expenditures in 1935-36 will be $246,000 over those of 1934-35. Governmental costs will be increased from $921,543.34 last year to $1,167,620.50 by the new items.

Special items to be placed into the budget include:

1. $60,000 for additional hospital expenses.
2. $50,000 for emergency relief expenses.
3. $30,000 for old age pensions.

These items were not approved by the state board of equalization. Permission to expend the money must be sought in September if the Wright act becomes effective and is not held up by referendum.

COUNTY LABOR RULES

In voting the $50,000 cash to the livestock project, the board had the assurance from C. H. Sooy, president of Agricultural District 1-A, that San Mateo county will control the labor on the $1,500,000 development. This assurance is given by PWA rules, Sooy said. J. F. Cambiano, union agent, said that San Mateo county labor was satisfied with the agreement.

Work on the project is expected to get underway "within the week," Sooy said.

The board secured an agreement from Sooy that if anything should happen so that the livestock pavilion is not built, San Mateo county's $50,000 would be repaid.

Sooy refused one of the requests made—that an associate architect be hired on the job to represent San Mateo county.

"HIGH PRESSURE" HIT

This was impossible, Sooy said, because four groups of architects were already at work.

"We have more architects now than Job had boils," he said.

Sooy severely criticized the efforts of a prominent San Mateo county architect to secure the appointment. He said he resented the "high pressure" tactics which were allegedly used. Sooy revealed that the architect had sought a $30,000 fee.

San Mateo county's $50,000 will be used in preparing the land, in building a spur, in removing a power line, and in other preliminary work getting ready for the livestock buildings, funds for which will come from San Francisco, state and federal sources.

Sooy said a fall livestock show will be held.

The $50,000 was voted unanimous approval of the board as the project is looked upon as part of the county's work relief program. Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, put the motion for its approval, and Supervisor Fred Beer, San Mateo, gave the second.

"MUST CARE FOR NEEDY"

Supervisor Witt, declaring that the needy, sick, and old age applicants must be cared for and "that no one must be allowed to suffer," put the motion overriding the state's refusal to allow the $140,000 in special relief items.

"I propose that we place this money in the budget irregardless of what the state board has to say," Witt said.

Anticipating some taxpayer group opposition to the excess expenditures and possible barriers set up by the new Wright act, Witt said: "Whatever happens, the board at least will have gone as far as it could to keep anybody from suffering."

Supervisor Witt put the motion fixing the board's policy to place the extra expenses in the new budget. Supervisor Beer gave the second, and the board voted unanimously.

In order to get a better understanding of the relief problem facing the county, Witt asked that Capt. L. G. McAloney, relief director, appear to explain the future status of the SERA in relation to the new WPA program.

VIOLATIONS HIT BY RUM DEALERS

Too Late Hours, Sale To Minors Object Of Drive

Determined to establish high standards in the liquor dealer business, members of the Redwood City Liquor Dealers Association at their meeting Tuesday afternoon decided to write two officials in an attempt to have the closing law and the rule regulating sale of liquor to minors enforced here.

Several merchants on the outskirts of Redwood City are staying open after 2 a. m., in violation of state law, and are dispensing drinks to minors, the dealers believe.

Because of this, attention of District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell and of Don Marshall, chief liquor control officer for the San Francisco district, will be called to the alleged violations, it was decided.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Sequoia Hotel. It will be a dinner meeting, with an opportunity being given other licensed dealers to join the organization, the only group of liquor dealers on the peninsula.

Bayshore City Mayor Denies Fund Misuse

BAYSHORE CITY, Aug. 7—Refuting rumors that Mayor Jack Lawson and Councilmen H. H. Smith and Mathew S. Parker had spent relief funds for themselves, Mayor Lawson at council meeting last evening read a letter from a dog track owner stating that the track had contributed no money for relief this year. All the city's funds come from the track.

To give the San Francisco Garbage Disposal Company of South San Francisco opportunity to rebid for the work it is now carrying on, opening of bids was postponed for 30 days.

Financial reports presented by city officials disclosed that the city, over and above expenses, for the past fiscal year, had $14,382 in the treasury.

Romance and History Blend in Famed Greenfield Village

Directly above is the Chapel of Martha-Mary which stands today in Henry Ford's Greenfield Village, at Dearborn, Michigan. A miniature duplication is included in the model of Greenfield Village in the Ford Exposition building, Balboa Park, San Diego. The church is typical of colonial places of worship and is named after the mothers of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford. The photo at the upper left is of the Waterford, Michigan, store and Clinton, Michigan, Inn as they appear today in Greenfield Village where they have been removed from their original locations. Clinton Inn is about 100 years old and served as an overnight stop on the stagecoach run between Detroit and Chicago. Miniatures are included in the model at the Ford Exposition. The photograph at the top right is that of the Lincoln courthouse where Abraham Lincoln practiced law for eight years in Logan county, Illinois. The structure is made of black walnut and the original was moved to Greenfield Village. It, too, is reproduced in the model at the Exposition.

Ford Exposition Visitors See Miniature Reproduction of Old Structures

History and romance blend with old buildings and a colonial setting at Greenfield Village, Michigan. The historical buildings, which have been moved or reconstructed as exact duplicates of the originals, circle a "green" as they did in all colonial communities. A model of this interesting group of old buildings forms a part of the Ford Exposition at Balboa Park, San Diego.

Around the green are scattered the public buildings, the church, the school, the inn, the store, the courthouse and the town hall. Each structure has an historic background which is woven into the events which made history in colonial days and into the lives of the country's leading citizens.

One of the oldest buildings in Greenfield Village is Clinton Inn, which was built in 1831-32. It was a typical hostelry of 100 years ago and stood in Clinton, Mich., where it was an overnight stop on the stagecoach run between Detroit and Chicago up to the early fifties. One of the last dances held on the spring ballroom floor was on New Year's in 1876. The Inn has been furnished in the style of the early days.

In the steeple of the Chapel of Martha-Mary is a bell which was cast by a son of Paul Revere. The church overlooks the green and is open to worshipers of all creeds and serves the residents of the village and pupils of the school as a retreat and religious center. The chapel was named for the mothers of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford. The bricks and front doors are from the girlhood home of Mrs. Ford and the first sod was turned by her when its erection was begun.

The town hall is located on the east end of the common, directly opposite the chapel. It is an impressive white building which serves as the town h[illegible] during the past year it has been used as a school. The interior includes a rostrum stage at the west end and an old-style stove in front with stovepipes crossing the stage.

Abraham Lincoln practiced law for eight years in the Lincoln Courthouse which was formerly in Logan county, Illinois, but which now stands in Greenfield Village. It was first built in 1840 as a two-story frame structure of black walnut. One of the articles of furniture in it is the original corner board fashioned by young "Abe" [illegible]n and his father to pay for a book borrowed from a neighbor and spoiled.

Greenfield Village at Dearborn, Michigan, occupies 200 acres and includes many buildings in which the handicraft arts of the past are presented as they were practiced in their original environment of public buildings and residences which, in their turn, illustrate the development of architectural types.

$425,000 BOND ISSUE TO REFUND 1915 ACT DEBT CALLED BY CITY

Council Unanimous in Acceptance Of Plan to Wipe Out All 7% Obligations

Setting the amount of the bond issue at $425,000 and the date of the election for Tuesday, September 24, the city council on Monday took next to final steps toward submitting a refinancing plan to the voters of Redwood City to wipe out the "1915" street act debt.

In deciding on the $425,000 issue, the city council does not expect to sell the full amount, hoping the refunding will cost less, but the figure was set large enough so that ample financing safeguards are provided.

Unanimous support of the council was given to the refunding plan, which was outlined to the board by J. C. Youngberg, San Francisco financial expert, who has been in consultation on the problem for months past.

Calling of the bond issue is forced upon the council by the mandate of the supreme court that the whole city is liable for the street and sewer improvements undertaken here during the years 1924 to 1931 under the 1915 Improvement Act.

The alternative to the bond issue would be a direct levy of taxes which would mean the doubling of the existing rate of $1 to $2 per $100.

"EASIER WAY OUT."

Council members view the bonding scheme as an easier way to put the city's financial house in order.

Objects of the refunding operation are to re-arrange the city's heavy street bond maturities of the past few years, which are now in default, and those maturing in the next few years, to take advantage of the current low interest rates and to save taxpayers one-half of their present interest charges; to bring the city up-to-date in the payment of its district bonded debt obligation, and to make more satisfactory provision for the prompt payment of interest and principal in the future.

DEBT ALREADY EXISTS

Emphasis is placed by the council upon the fact that the refunding operation will not saddle a new load of indebtedness on the taxpayers, as the debt actually exists, but to find some easy way out to pay it off.

The supreme court has ruled that cities must levy a 10 cents per $100 special tax on each series of bonds in default, and as Redwood City has about 38 districts more or less in default, the maximum possible liability would be $3.80, in addition to the $1 general taxes for city operation purposes. However, as some of the districts are paying up, about $1 in special taxes would probably take care of the load.

ELECTION FORCED

Because of the ruling, bond holders have forced the decision on the bond election, as their demands would practically double the city tax rate, a situation which the council has sought to avoid.

The "1915" bonds draw 7 per cent interest, and the refunding bonds are expected to require only about 3½ per cent. The total annual interest charge on the outstanding bonds is about $28,280, an amount equal to about 20 cents per $100 on the city's valuation

Saving of about $14,000 per year in interest is anticipated on the lower-rate bonds.

HEAVY TAX ALTERNATIVE

Retirement of principal and interest on the new bonds in the first few years would largely be taken care of by the receipts from property assessments, it is expected. If the bonds do not carry the city will be required to place a special levy of 30 cents in the new tax rate to meet interest payments up to July 1, 1935. No funds for new interest payments or for retirement of principal would be provided by the old practice.

Little opposition is expected by the council to the refunding plan if it is understood.

The board plans an educational campaign in behalf of the plan with newspaper articles and public speakers to feature the program.

Council action calling the bond election was taken upon motion of Councilman James Eva, and second of Councilman George McNulty. The board will meet in adjourned session Monday at 9:30 a. m. to give final passage to the ordinance calling the election.

Mrs. Nichelsen Captures Prize For Bread Menu

A recipe brought Mrs. H. Nickelsen of 26 Bancroft road, Burlingame, a valuable prize this week. Mrs. Nichelsen was awarded the July prize offered by the Women's Menu Flash Guild for the most interesting and appetizing recipe of the month.

Mrs. Nichelsen's recipe for banana nut bread won the prize—a large sterling silver bonbon dish. Mrs. Nichelsen's prize winning recipe follows:

BANANA NUT BREAD
2 cups flour (all purpose)
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
3 medium size ripe bananas
⅞ cup sugar
2 tablespoons Golden State butter, melted
1 Golden State egg
2 tablespoons Golden State sour milk or buttermilk
½ cup finely chopped walnuts

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and soda. Mash bananas in a large mixing bowl with a fork. Add sugar, melted butter, egg, sour milk and mix well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and nuts. Bake in a greased loaf pan in a slow oven 325° to 350° F for about 1 hour. Serve with butter or whipped cream. This loaf makes attractive tea sandwiches when spread either with butter or cream cheese.

Taxes Don't Worry Troubled Bayshore

Bayshore City, with its perennial garbage controversy and a recall city council election set for August 12, at least lacks one worry at this time of year. It has no taxes to raise.

The annual $10,000 license paid by the Bayshore Greyhound Breeders' Association covers governmental expenses including salaries of the city clerk, police judge, treasurer, police chief and relief officer.

Incorporated in 1933, the city now claims a population of more than 1000, with some 320 of them registered voters.

Dobbs Chosen Head of Fete Queen Contest

Mrs. F. M. Perkins To Be in Charge Of Novelties

Hugh Barrett Dobbs—he of Captain Dobbsie fame—will direct the queen contest for the coming San Mateo County Fall Festival.

DOBBS

This was announced today by Anita Day Hubbard, selected, as was Dobbs, by the festival executive committee Tuesday as publicity director for the show.

Mrs. Hubbard directed publicity for the three successful flower shows held here and also handled the relief bond campaign three years ago.

Dobbs, now a resident of the Burlingame Hills district, plans to formulate plans for the contest in the next two days and announce them Friday night at the general committee meeting, which will be held in the festival headquarters at 116 B street, San Mateo.

Another exhibit for the show was assured at the meeting when Mrs. F. M. Perkins of Redwood City was appointed vice chairman in charge of a novelty display of tropical fish and birds.

SUPPORT GROWING

Further evidence of the enthusiasm with which the festival idea is being received throughout the county was given by Fred Carlyle, pageant director, who reported unusual progress with his division. He declared he was offered ample support in every locality he has visited.

Support to the show also was given yesterday afternoon by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce when the directors authorized Pres. Edward T. Harrison to name a representative and alternate to the county committee and voiced approval of the festival, which will be held October 10-13 in Bay Meadows race track near San Mateo.

Chamber Votes Regatta Funds And Assistance

Both moral and financial support will be given by the local chamber of commerce to the Sea Scout regatta which converges on Redwood City August 31 for a three-day stay in the harbor, directors of the chamber decided Tuesday afternoon.

So enthusiastic was their response to Max J. Leonard's request for cooperation that the directors voted $50 cash aid to help in staging the event. Leonard had asked only that the chamber "lend support" and extend use of its offices.

At the short meeting, E. B. Hinman reported on the hearing before the state highway commission relative to securing early work on widening of El Camino Real through Redwood City. Hinman indicated he believed the project would receive early and favorable attention.

President Edward T. Harrison of the chamber was authorized to appoint a representative on the county festival committee.

Also appearing will be Johnny Kane and Buddy Maloney, and Jimmy and Bobbie Andersen in boxing exhibitions. These youngsters, all pupils of Andersen's Physical Culture Institute on Main street, sling gloves with the skill of professionals.

Pope Street Span Project Will Proceed

Santa Clara County's Reluctance to Join May Alter Plans

Determination to rebuild or repair the Pope street bridge on the county line between Palo Alto and San Mateo county was expressed today by County Executive Walter Kellogg and Engineer-Appointee Urban S. Marshall, despite adverse action taken by the Santa Clara county supervisors on the proposition of helping sponsor the project for federal aid.

If the county and Palo Alto alone have to bear the sponsors' cost, it is possible it will be only repaired, which can be done for half or less of the anticipated $20,000 cost of reconstruction with SERA labor, Kellogg said.

Cost to the two local units if the structure is rebuilt might run as high as $7,500, according to Marshall's estimates.

Local agencies are required to furnish only 20 per cent of the total cost, providing cost of material does not run more than one-fourth of the total cost. In that event, which is likely to occur in the bridge project, the cost to the local agencies would run higher.

"We have to give relief to needy people anyhow, and we might as well have them earning their money on constructive projects," Marshall said in urging that the project be considered as a joint Palo Alto-San Mateo county undertaking if Santa Clara county will not "come in."

Father Kills Cripple Then Takes Own Life

GODDARD, Kas., Aug. 8 (AP)—An aged farmer and his crippled son were dead here, the victims of a "mercy murder" and a suicide.

William Whitby, 81, shot and killed his 40-year-old son, Rollo, who has been an imbecile since he fell from a barn loft when a child, and then turned the gun on himself, officers said.

"Murder and suicide," was the verdict of Dr. G. C. Davis, Sedgewick county coroner.

MENLO PARK NEWS

John Demeter has purchased the Tommy White auto service opposite the railroad station. Mr. Demeter is the owner of the Tony Taxi Garage. The new concern will be known as the Yellow Cab Company.

James W. Davis has jumped into the spotlight through the lynching of Clyde Johnson at Yreka, Siskiyou county, last Sunday morning. Davis was a practicing attorney here two years ago and at that time was the lawyer for the Menlo Park Sanitary District. Before the last general election he closed his office and returned to his former home in Siskiyou county and campaigned for the office of district attorney, defeating the incumbent by a large vote.

Since the tragedy at Yreka, Davis has been quoted by the press of the state and has denounced the federal courts for delays in settling the case of George Hall.

Davis was born at Sawyer's Bar and after graduating in law from the Berkeley university, was elected district attorney of Del Norte county. His vigorous prosecution of the bootleggers of that county aided in his defeat at the following election. Davis afterward came to the peninsula to practice.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Douglass and their pretty daughter, Florence, are expected to return from Honolulu shortly. Miss Douglass will resume her studies at the University of California this fall.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howe at the Community Hospital last Sunday. Mrs. Howe was formerly Miss Ruth Covey of Menlo Park.

At the home of his father, Charles Kaufmann, Menlo Park, Herman Kaufmann was united in marriage to Miss Elsie Phillips, Watsonville, last Sunday afternoon. The ceremony took place under the palms of the Kaufmann gardens. Kaufmann attended Sequoia Union High School in Redwood City.

The attendance at the Menlo Park horse show this week has been the largest in the history of the Menlo Circus Club. The elite of the peninsula and the bay counties enjoyed the big affair. Among the notables who were present yesterday was Lieut. Atherton Macondray, son of the late Atherton Macondray. The lieutenant was born in Menlo Park and for some years has been connected with the United States navy. His ship, the New Mexico, came to port this week and the young lieutenant ran down to see the show and visit the scenes of his happy boyhood.

PULGAS SEWER WORK SOUGHT AS WPA UNIT

City to Raise $5,000 To Secure $25,000 Of Federal Aid

With prospects of the new WPA program paying four-fifths of the cost, a Pulgas storm sewer project was laid before the city council on Monday by City Manager E. A. Rolison to relieve drainage conditions of the Hopkins-Whipple area and the westerly side of the Bayshore highway at the easterly city limits.

Rolison suggested that if the council would raise about $5,000 by taxes in the new budget, a $25,000 to $30,000 sewer project could be constructed under the WPA program. This will take about 5 cents on the tax rate.

The storm drain would be of 36-inch construction and would be the "big end' of the system required to properly care for the excess waters of the Hopkins-Whipple area.

Plans outlined by City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt also call for replacement of an existing 8-inch sanitary sewer with a 12-inch pipe.

Rolison was authorized to proceed with the WPA application.

BOAT WAYS ORDERED AT YACHT HARBOR

Emil Dehoff was authorized by the council to construct marine boat ways at the municipal yacht harbor in order to provide facilities for repair and painting of boats. Rentals will be determined later when the income from Dehoff's enterprise is known.

WIRE SCREEN ORDERED AT SOFTBALL FIELD

Erection of a wire barrier to protect spectators seated in the bleachers at the Horace Hawes ball park was authorized. Several persons were reported to have been struck by batted and wildly pitched balls.

TENNIS COURT RULES WILL BE POSTED

Posting of rules and regulations for use of the tennis courts was ordered by the council. Children will be ruled off the courts after 5 o'clock if adults wish to play. Also time limits will be posted.

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE BOARD

T. J. Henderson, operator of the Emerald Lake stage, was granted a permit to operate a taxicab service here as well.

Study of a uniform building code for Redwood City was authorized after City Attorney Albert Mansfield said the model code was not fully adaptable.

Overhauling of present parking codes was authorized by the council.

Expenditure of $250 for paving the new postoffice alley was authorized.

Abolishment of tax penalties was opposed by the council.

Change of name of Hawes street to Myrtle street was referred to the planners.

WAR FEARED IF U. S. HEEDS CREED FIGHT

Religious Persecution Deplored, But Aid Seen As Unlikely

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (UP)—American citizens who demand that the United States take official cognizance of religious persecution in foreign countries "are going to get us into war," Rep. Thomas D. Blanton (D., Tex.) warned the house today.

Blanton on several previous occasions has engaged in heated debate with representatives who criticized the regime of various foreign dictators.

"I have in my heart a warm feeling for every Jew and every Catholic in the United States," Blanton said. "But I want to say to my Jewish and Catholic friends that if they don't stop interfering with the internal matters of foreign governments they're going to get us into war."

Rep. John Boylan (D., N. Y.) who several times has bitterly protested Catholic persecution by foreign governments, attempted to have Blanton stopped by Speaker Byrns on the grounds the Texan was "castigating" other house members. Byrns, however, ruled Blanton's remarks in order.

Jobs Are Sought For White Collar Men of Peninsula

With new governmental administrations being set up during this month, the White Collar League of San Mateo county voted on Wednesday to seek appointment of their members to positions arising in this locality.

The members are all residents of this county and citizenship is one of the qualifications for membership to the league.

More than 60 members are now on the membership list, which includes men from every community from the northern to the southern boundary of the county.

More than 26 occupations are represented in the gathering ranging from accountants to surveyors and including every professional and clerical occupation known to the business world.

Communist Nations Are Warned to Unite

MOSCOW, Aug. 8 (AP)—Georgi Dmitrov told the council of the Third Internationale today the conditions in many capitalistic countries are approaching a point where a united front of governments with Communist participation will be needed.

William Z. Foster, former Communist candidate for the United States presidency, stated, "The Fascist movement is growing in the United States, making imperative the organization of a united front."

180-YEAR TERMS

Over 300 Attend Belmont Picnic In County Park

BELMONT, Aug. 4.—With their slogan "Community Harmony Assures Progress", an automobile caravan of 75 machines carrying members of the Belmont Chamber of Commerce and their friends, drove to Memorial Park yesterday where once again the annual picnic of the Chamber was staged.

The picnic superceded the successful one held last year. Belmont merchants made the day a promising one with their generous contributions for prizes and refreshments. A number of outside merchants also contributed to the affair.

Alexander Morrison was chairman of the day. He was assisted by Herman Kohlmoos, Frank McBurney, Captain A. T. Harbrouck, C. J. Messner, W. E. Curtis, J. S. N. Bebb, Allan Cranford, Albert Hansen, John G. Smith and W. J. McDonough. Arthur Kennedy, president of the chamber, kept the guests entertained with the 15 field events and dancing.

The chamber provided coffee, milk and ice cream for the 300 guests.

Stanford Student Stricken in Europe

Word reached here today of the death in Naples, Italy, of J. Laurence Frost, 20, Stanford student, who was touring there with his parents. Infantile paralysis was the cause of death.

The student, who registered from Los Angeles, would have been a senior at Stanford this fall. He was an economics major. While attending Stanford he lived at 670 Cornell street.

Doctors at the Bagdasarov Institute, Moscow, have invented an artificial heart, which is said to keep a patient alive while his own heart is removed for repairs.

BAY AREA VIEWS MASSED FLIGHT

67 Ships Pass Here, Do Maneuvering At S. F.

What was the peninsula's loss proved to be San Francisco's gain last night as the 67 naval planes, training at Moffett Field, did their night maneuvering over the bay city.

Although they passed over Redwood City shortly before dark, the four squadrons of fighters, scouts and bombers from the U. S. S. Lexington, now stationed at Sunnyvale, flew over San Francisco the rest of the evening.

Morning maneuvers of the ships yesterday were held up more than half an hour when preparations for the night flight ran into a demonstration of San Francisco's poorer visibility.

Warmed up in the big Moffett Field hangar and ready to start their mass flying practice at 9:30 a. m., the planes were forced to await the arrival of their senior squadron commander, Lieut.-Comm. Donald B. Duncan.

Commander Duncan, who arrived shortly after 10 a. m., had flown to the army's Crissy Field to make arrangements should any of the planes have forced landings while over San Francisco in the evening. However, when he was ready to return to Moffett Field, where skies were brilliantly clear, he was unable to get clearance from the army field because of army regulations with respect to the low visibility then prevailing at Crissy Field.

TOWNSEND CLUBS PLANNING PICNIC FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Judge John Leonard of Santa Cruz, member of the advisory board of the Townsend old age pension plan in the eighth congressional district, will be the main speaker at a basket picnic and mass meeting at La Honda Park next Sunday. His subject will be "What the Townsend Plan Has To Offer The Youth Of Our Country." The lecture, preceded by a program, will start at 2 p.m. The crowd also will participate in swimming, boating and dancing.

Townsend club members from San Francisco to Monterey are expected to be present.

Hoover to Observe Birthday on Train

Former Pres. Herbert C. Hoover will celebrate his 61st birthday anniversary next Saturday—on the train. He will be en route to New York where he is to attend a number of business meetings including a session of the directorate of the New York Life Insurance Company and one of the board of trustees of the Commission for Relief in Belgium Foundation.

Mr. Hoover will leave for the East tonight, accompanied by Ben S. Allen, who was associated with him in the Belgian relief administration during the World War. He expects to return to Palo Alto by August 20.

SCAVENGERS WIN IN SURPRISE MOVE

Action Taken in Face Of Notice Permit Expires Aug. 1

Steps to settle San Francisco's garbage problem for 10 years—at the expense of San Mateo county—were taken at Monday afternoon's meeting of the bay city board of supervisors.

Although several members of the San Francisco board had told Supervisor Albert Witt of Colma that no action would be taken Monday on the garbage question, and the local supervisors consequently did not attend to protest continued dumping of the 650 daliy tons of garbage in this county, a 10-year franchise was given the Sanitary Fill Company, representing the Scavengers' Union.

Final adoption of the resolution granting the franchise was put over for two weeks, however.

The move came in the face of knowledge that the Bayshore Sanitary Board, which controls the tidelands where the garbage is dumped near Bayshore City, had cancelled permits to dispose of the refuse there, effective August 31.

SAYS CANCELLATION ILLEGAL

But Sylvester Andriano, former San Francisco supervisor who represents the fill company, assured the board that the district's cancellation step was illegal and that the scavengers' permit now in effect can be rescinded only for cause.

This opinion found support from Walter Dold, assistant city attorney, who told the board that "on its face, the permit cannot be canceled." Dold warned the supervisors, however, that legal action might follow the board's action.

$50,000 BOND POSTED

The bid was in conformance with the recommendation of the San Francisco board's health committee.

It was made only after Andriano, an behalf of the scavengers offered to post a $50,000 bond that his group could fill its contract. He explained there was a move on for the district's board to rescind its action. This move has twice been frustrated, but is scheduled for completion again August 15.

"San Francisco might be involved in a suit because it granted a franchise after the Sanitary District's notification, or the Sanitary Fill Company itself might sue to recover its $50,000 bond under the franchise, should it be unable to carry out its contract because of the district's decision," Dold told the board.

DUE IN 90 DAYS

Under the franchise, the company will have exclusive right to collect San Francisco's garbage and dispose of it under the fill-and-cover method in San Mateo county on property leased by the scavengers from the Sanitary District.

The contract between the supervisors and the company cannot be executed before 90 days. It provides for payment to the company of $1 a ton, or such other sum as may be agreed on by the bidder and the garbage collectors. If they cannot agree, the rate is to be fixed by the board, but must not exceed $1.50 a ton.

ADVOCATE INCINERATOR

Supervisors Uhl and Schmidt opposed the franchise, advocating a bond isue to build an incinerator. Uhl's opposition led to the production by Supervisor Roncovieri of a pamphlet issued by Uhl three years ago in which he strongly advocated fill-and-cover. Uhl explained that, since that time, the incinerator method has been perfected.

In another clash, Schmidt charged that "a member of this board is championing the cause of the Scavengers' Union." He added: "I want to ask Roncovieri some questions."

"Be careful, now," Roncovieri said with heat.

Schmidt asked whether Roncovieri had transacted compensation insurance business with the scavengers, and whether the supervisor's son acted as attorney for the Scavengers' Protective Association.

Roncovieri answered with a curt "No!"

During the debate, it was explained that the city can terminate the franchise on six months' notice if it desires to acquire the scavengers' equipment and collect the garbage as a municipal enterprise.

S. M. Salary Boosts Refused by Council

SAN MATEO, Aug. 7.—The budget on which City Manager E. P. Wilsey started to work today showed a reduction of from 5 to 10 cents on the tax rate, following a city council meeting last evening at which it was decided not to return city salaries to their 1931 basis. The tax rate last year ran from $1.21 to $1.44.

In an informal meeting following the regular one, members of the council expressed disagreement with the rate of pay on PWA projects, saying that in their opinion the pay is not a living wage. Councilmen said they didn't want the city to be a part to paying working men less than $50 per month. This decision will probably delay a sewer project contemplated for San Mateo Park, it was thought.

Application of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for a franchise was referred to City Attorney Earl Wilson for legal advice.

One-twentieth of a cubic centimeter is considered to be the approximate volume of an average drop of medicine or other liquid formed at the end of a medicine dropper.

Ill Health, Accident To Son Are Blamed For Attempt

BURLINGAME, Aug. 5—After drinking a potion of strychnine, Mrs. Margaret Gotham, 45, wife of a Burlingame baker, was in the San Mateo Community Hospital today where lay her son, John, 10, with a fractured arm.

The suicide attempt, according to police, followed a long series of illnesses and the accident Saturday to her son, who broke his arm when he fell off a merry-go-round in a local park.

Shortly before 9 o'clock this morning Mrs. Gotham called to her husband, John, that "she was tired of it all and had nothing to live for." With these words she locked the bathroom door and drank the poison.

Her husband, assisted by Ruth Fanning and Mrs. A. Simon, neigh-

Police Radio System Considered in S. M.

SAN MATEO, Aug. 7—As a result of a demonstration yesterday before city councilmen and city officials, E. P. Wilsey, city manager, will recommend in the budget now in preparation that provision be made for $1,100 for installation of a two-way radio system in two police cars and a motorcycle.

Expense of the system would be self-liquidating as police telephone boxes and calls to San Francisco by police now total nearly $500 a year, the manager said.

DOG'S SUFFERING KILLS MAN

Victim Topples Over Giving First Aid

PET LOSES LEG UNDER TRAIN

Seeing his brown and white mongrel dog suffering from an amputated leg, cut off by a passing train, proved too much of a shock for Henry Blotevogel on Tuesday, and he toppled over in the garden of his home at 1815 Westmoreland street, Dumbarton Oaks, dead.

The tragedy was discovered by Leland Ralston, 10-year-old magazine delivery boy, when he went to Blotevogel's house at 9:15 a. m. to make his weekly delivery. Blotevogel had apparently been dead only a few minutes. The dog, with his right hind leg sheared off, was standing over the body.

The boy ran to his home, nearby, and his parents immediately contacted the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Thomas Maloney, sent to investigate, found that evidence showed Blotevogel apparently had been summoned to his door by the howling of his pet and companion, with whom he lived alone in the three-room house.

Apparently the man had gone back into the building and secured a basin of water and a cloth for a bandage.

But the sight of the little mongrel dog bleeding and suffering proved too much for him. He toppled over, the victim of a heart attack brought on by shock, it is believed. His pipe was still in his mouth, and the cloth was clutched in his stiffened hand. Blotevogel's house faces the railroad track, and the dog evidently had made his three-legged way home after the misnap to secure attention from his master.

Deputy Sheriff Maloney mercifully put an end to the dog's suffering with a shot from his pistol.

Blotevogel, who is believed to have been about 65, was a Spanish-War veteran, it was reported. It is known that he had some brothers and sisters in Illinois and Missouri, but whether or not he had any relatives in this vicinity is not known. He apparently lived in San Bruno three years ago, judging by mail found in his home.

It was believed Blotevogel was retired, and had a trust fund, which, it was reported, was being administered by a San Francisco bank.

BOARD REFUSES POPE BRIDGE AID

Plans Suffer Setback As Board Refuses To Contribute

Plans to reconstruct the Pope street bridge in North Palo Alto on the line between San Mateo and Santa Clara counties received a serious blow Monday when the Santa Clara county board of supervisors took no action on the suggestion of County Executive Walter T. Kellogg that that county contribute 20 per cent as its share of the work.

Kellogg, working in conjunction with Engineer-Appointee Urban S. Marshall, has had plans drawn for submission to WPA authorities to rebuild the bridge, which is considered to be unsafe and unsatisfactory. This county has offered to contribute its share of the cost as has Palo Alto. Santa Clara county was asked to supply 20 per cent of the cost needed to get WPA assistance.

Hinds' Damage Action Opens in Court Here

With Edwin V. McKenzie, Lamson case attorney, and former District Attorney Edmund Scott sitting across the counsel table from each other, E. G. Hinds' $42,852.90 personal injuries damage action opened before a jury in Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt's court Wednesday.

The trial, outgrowth of an accident September 17, 1934, on the Bayshore highway in which Hinds, Redwood City automobile financier, was injured, is expected to occupy three days.

Defendants in the action, represented by Scott, are the Valley Motor Lines of Fresno and their driver, Charles E. Rusert. In his petition, filed through Attorney McKenzie, Hinds alleges he was injured when his machine and Rusert's truck collided.

Trustees Consider Play Area Purchase

SAN MATEO, Aug. 7—Trustees of the elementary school board were reported negotiating here today with owners of property adjacent to Lawrence grammar school for a strip of property the board plans to transform into a park. At present a road cuts the school playground in two, and purchase of the land under consideration would permit closing of the road and removal of a traffic menace as well as of a danger to playing school children, board members said.

Mills Airport Purchase Plan Lacks Support

Time Held Premature To Study Proposal By Supervisors

San Mateo county supervisors are not interested in securing Mills Field at San Bruno as a county airport, at this time, the board decided Monday, in refusing to give a second to a motion by Supervisor Walter High, Burlingame, that the planning commission study the proposal.

High suggested that San Mateo county planners study the possibility of acquiring the airport if San Francisco abandons it in the next five years in favor of the Yerba Buena shoals.

SUPPORT WITHHELD

Despite press reports that other members of the board would back him up on the plan, no supervisor offered a second, and Supervisor Albert Witt, Jr., actually chuckled at the idea.

"What of it? What if San Francisco does abandon the field?" he asked. "What can we do about it?"

High replied that he believed the loss would be keenly felt and that San Mateo county should acquire the airport as its own.

Supervisor Fred Beer, San Mateo, said any action now would be premature and opposed making a study of the matter.

"Five years is too long a time to study anything," he said.

"All right, let it go then," High said.

BUSINESS LOSS SEEN

Opposition of the board is believed based upon the probable abandonment by Pacific Coast and transcontinental lines and would leave the field without business.

The cost of the acreage is also believed prohibitive, as $1,000,000 would likely be the figure San Francisco would ask, it was said.

County interest in the airport would only be based upon future growth of aviation which would assure the necessity for such an undertaking.

RIGHTS OF WAY CLEAR

Rights-of-way for the Ocean Shore Railroad, now being rebuilt, have been secured and all litigation settled, Harry W. Cole announced today. He also said work on the project is being rushed. Contracts have been let. Grading crews and equipment are at work on the old roadbed at Pedro Mountain.

The stomach of a hippopotamus will hold four to five bushels of food.

2 PENINSULA RESIDENTS DIE IN CAR CRASH

Roads in County Again Free of Fatalities; Several Injured

San Mateo county's highways were again free of traffic fatalities for the sixth consecutive week-end Sunday and Saturday, but two peninsula residents met instant death when the machine in which they were riding crashed at high speed into a roadside tree two miles south of Walnut Creek near Danville, Contra Costa county.

They were Mrs. A. W. Miller, 75, and her son, A. W. Miller Jr., 38, both said to have been connected with the Veterans' Facility at Palo Alto. Their bodies were returned to Palo Alto Monday for burial.

A. M. Murphy, 45, driver of the car, was charged with manslaughter and held in the jail at Martinez. Murphy, who lives at 440 South Sixth street, San Jose, and C. H. Canine, 38, also an employe of the veterans' hospital and who was likewise a passenger in the machine, escaped with only slight injuries.

Leland Balcomb, 24, San Francisco SERA worker, was in a critical condition and the driver of the car which struck his motorcycle and then sped away leaving the youth unconscious by his battered machine was being sought by officers Monday. Balcomb was found Sunday night on Skyline boulevard near Spring Valley Lakes and rushed to Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moroni, 42 Pleasant Lane, San Rafael, were given emergency treatment by Drs. Mason and Monteith at the local Emergency Hospital and then removed to Community Hospital after they had been involved in a traffic collision early Monday at Brisbane. Mrs. Moroni suffered a possible factured hip, cuts and bruises, while her husband suffered contusions, cuts and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Koon, of San Francisco were injured when a street car struck and overturned their automobile in Daly City. Koon, 35, suffered a broken pelvis and his wife, Ann, was cut and bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Formesi, riding with the Koons, were cut and bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Thomas of San Francisco narrowly escaped death when their machine plunged down a 100-foot embankment on Skyline boulevard south of Salada Beach after being crowded off the road by a passing machine. Thomas, 48, suffered internal injuries and his wife, Caroline, 50, a lacerated head. They were taken to Villa Sanitarium, Daly City.

Jack Miller, 35, of Burlingame, was critically injured Sunday when his car struck the trailer of a beer truck two miles north of Sausalito. Frank Cherico of San Jose, driver of the truck, was released when Miller told Sausalito authorities he had fallen asleep at the wheel, according to press dispatches.

FEDERAL AID HOPE FOR SUBWAYS DIM

Yerba Buena Project Has Better Chance, Officials Say

Although federal aid for reclamation of Yerba Buena shoals may be received, it is doubtful if PWA assistance can be given for San Francisco's proposed $52,000,000 rapid transit system.

This was the consensus of opinion expressed in the bay city by PWA officials, who explained that the one-year construction limitation set by President Roosevelt for expenditure of his four billion dollar work relief fund would eliminate the transit system from consideration. The system would take about three years to build.

Horatio B. Hackett, deputy PWA administrator, suggested, however, that to overcome the difficulty, the transit plan be curtailed for the time being to a Market street subway only, which might be rushed through in 1936, or secure a 45 per cent allocation of the cost of the first year's work, hoping congress next year will make further appropriations.

If only the Market street subway were constructed, it would be without the lateral subways comprised in the Ridgway plan. This project, running from the bridge terminal to Gough street, is estimated to cost $16,000,000.

WPA Concerts Urged By Recreation Group

Concerts similar to those given by SERA orchestras in the county during the past year will be continued under auspices of the new Works Progress Administration, if the county recreation commission has its way.

This was decided yesterday afternoon at the commission's meeting. It was decided the board would sponsor WPA concerts, designed to give work to unemployed musicians. No cost to the county would be entailed by the move, the federal government paying the musicians.

General discussion of plans for the coming year's recreational program was held by the commission, meeting in the court house.

67 PLANES MAKE NON-STOP FLIGHT TO SUNNYVALE BASE

Sixty-seven airplanes of the U. S. S. Lexington completed a non-stop flight from San Diego to Moffett Field during the noon hour today, the second such contingent using the Sunnyvale field for maneuvers.

Between now and their departure Friday, the four squadrons will engage in tactical exercises and cross-country flying from their temporary base at the air station in operations similar to those carried out last week by the 66 planes from the Carrier Saratoga.

Today's contingent was composed, in the order of their landing, of: Fifteen bombers of squadron VB5 under command of Lieutenant Commander Barner; sixteen scouting planes of squadron VS3, with Lieutenant Commander Duncan, senior flight officer, in charge; eighteen fighters of squadron VF2B, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Crinkley, and eighteen bombers of squadron VB3B, with Lieutenant Commander Harrel.

In contrast to the planes of the Saratoga, which landed at Sunnyvale at intervals of over two hours, the Lexington's planes came in on each others' tails, so that the last plane to land arrived only 15 minutes after the first.

After these ships leave the latter part of this week, squadrons from the Carrier Ranger will use the field as a base for a week of aerial gunnery, bombing and other training.

Alterations costing $400 will be made in the office of County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney under plans approved Monday by the board of supervisors. The cashier's windows will be re-arranged, and larger lobby space will be provided for the public.

Purchase of 24 folding chairs for use in various offices of the courthouse, as needed, was requested by County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman and approved by the board. Deeds on the widening of Woodside road and on the Pescadero Creek road were accepted and filed.

The sum of $100 was voted to the San Mateo County Legion Auxiliary to help defray expenses of the drill corps going to the Fresno convention next week.

The Lomita Park Fire District asked $2,700 and the Pulgas Mosquito Abatement District $8,500, which requests were referred to the auditor.

Harold Norton, 1109 Mills avenue, San Bruno, filed a request for appointment to the traffic patrol.

The Bear Gulch Water Company asked permission to connect the sewer at its Eighth avenue plant. The request was referred to Inspector George Erskine.

Mrs. Mary Rhead of Lobitos filed a protest to construction of a concrete culvert on the Lobitos road.

John Ugliono, 101 El Camino Real, was granted a soft drink permit.

The board voted $469 to the improvement of Encinal avenue in Felton Gables as requested by W. L. Meussdorffer.
